AIR AVIA AVIATION CONSULTANTS

UK-based Air Avia Ltd provides a consultancy service for individuals and companies involved in or planning corporate and commercial air charter, aircraft hire and the design and operation of Fixed Based Operations (FBOs).

Air Avia is directed by David Antrobus who has 42 years of experience in developing business and charter of air taxi services nationally and internationally, together with aircraft operations and management. He has also been instrumental in the design and operation of an award winning FBO.

David Antrobus has been the Chairman of the general and business aviation industry's trade association for over 20 years and is currently Chairman of the British Business and General Aviation Association (BBGA), which represents some 170 companies in the UK. He also served other aviation bodies including the Joint Aviation Authority (JAA) Flight Time Limitations Committee and is a member of the Board of Governors of the European Business Aviation Association (EBAA).

David Antrobus is a founder member of the Civil Aviation Authority's (CAA) Finance and Operations committee.
